

Dug at South facing snowpit at 9700' near the base of a wind-loaded slope, ECTX HS:280. Continued on less than 200' up the slope, the skier breaking trail triggered the avalanche. The third skier in the group of five was caught, carried, and buried to the waist. The crown was 1-2' deep, and 50 feet wide. Location: South of Fisher Mountain. Yesterday triggered a small windslab on a north-facing slope on miller ridge, no one was involved.

Advisory Region
Cooke City
Longitude

-109.97W

Latitude

45.06N

Avalanche Details: Skier triggered slide on Fisher Mountain

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Forecast for Sat Feb 4, 2023GNFAC Avalanche Forecast for Sun Feb 5, 2023GNFAC Avalanche Forecast for Mon Feb 6, 2023

Cooke City, 2023-02-04